

News updated: 8/11/2015 5:31 PM

Regeneration in nature topic of exhibition at Ryerson Woods

Daily Herald report

A new group exhibition "Regeneration: The Nature of Transformation" will open with a reception from 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 16, at the Brushwood Center at Ryerson Woods, 21850 N. Riverwoods Road, Riverwoods. The show features 13 individuals who address aspects of regeneration in their respective practices -- from designers who transform salvaged materials into furniture pieces to artists who create works inspired by the phenomena of reclamation and renewal in nature. The exhibition runs through Nov. 1. Hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday or by appointment at (847) 968-3308. Visit brushwoodcenter.org. Brushwood Center is the former summer home of the Ryerson family, built in 1942 with salvaged materials.

Article Comments (0)

You May Like

Sponsored Links by Taboola

3 Incredibly High-Paying Miles Rewards Cards You Should Not Ignore

LendingTree

Libertyville, Illinois Drivers Are Stunned By This New Rule

Provide Savings Insurance Quotes

He Made 21,078% Buying Amazon. Here's His New Pick

The Motley Fool

Our Experts Pick the Best Credit Cards For Your Business

Credit Cards Offers

Beginner Golfers Use This To Increase Their Drive 15+ Yards

Powerchute